The Constitutional Law
Institute
GEORGE WASHINGTON'S MOUNT VERNON
SEPTEMBER 24–25, 2026
Virginia Law Foundation

The Overview

The Constitutional Law Institute commemorates America's 250th anniversary and explores Virginia's ongoing work in building a 'more perfect union.'

The Virginia Law Foundation is proud to partner with George Washington's Mount Vernon to reignite the Constitutional Law Institute at this iconic national site. This forum brings together legal leaders, scholars, historians, educators, students, and the public to consider the importance of our founding document and the Rule of Law.

The Institute kicks off on the evening of September 24 with the Founding Debates, a free public program featuring Dr. Mary Sarah Bilder of Boston College Law School and ABC News legal anylist Sarah Isgur. A full day of a dynamic CLE panels September 25 will explore a range of topics, including Virginia's constitutional legacy, from James Madison to John Marshall, its central role in civil rights litigation, gender equality under the Constitution, and the foundations of colonial Virginia law.

The Institute is expected to provide 5.5 hours of MCLE credit.

Distinguished Speakers open the day of discourse.

Carly Fiorina and the Honorable William C. Mims

Carly Fiorina, national honorary chair of the Virginia 250 Commission, will welcome Institute guests with opening remarks, Friday, September 25. As a former Fortune 50 CEO, passionate civics advocate, and 2016 presidential candidate, her address will underscore the significance of the year and will be followed by a keynote by the Honorable William C. Mims, senior justice of the Supreme Court of Virginia.

We wholeheartedly embrace our responsibility to energize the leaders who work daily to strengthen our nation's principles in courtrooms, classrooms, and communities.

Committed to energizing leaders.
